2020 CASTLEDOWNS VARIETY SHOW

To our wonderful patrons and volunteers:
It is with regret that we inform you that the CDRS board has decided not to put on a show this year. The Variety Show would fall under Phase 3 of the provinces relaunch strategy. As there really is no timeline for when that might take place, and social distancing measures will still be required when it does, it would greatly impede our ability to put together the best show possible for our patrons and volunteers.

Plus, we want to do our part to keep everyone safe. It wasn't an easy decision but one that needed to be made. We appreciate your understanding and look forward to coming back for our 36th year in 2021!

Thanks again for your continued support and know that the fall just won't be the same without you!

Stay Safe

Cancer and Fatigue

Fatigue is a sense of tiredness that doesn't seem to go away, even with rest or sleep. It often happens along with other symptoms, such as pain or poor sleep. You may feel fatigued during cancer treatments, right after treatments, or even for months after treatment.

Even as your cancer treatments are working and you are getting better, you may feel exhausted. Feeling fatigued does not mean that your cancer is getting worse or that your treatment isn't working.

Symptoms such as pain, vomiting, diarrhea, lack of appetite, and nausea can cause fatigue. Talk to your doctor about treatments for these symptoms. He or she will also be able to help you if your tiredness is from anemia, medicines you are taking, or other health problems.

Rest and activity

Home treatment may help to relieve fatigue caused by cancer or the side effects of chemotherapy or radiation therapy. If your doctor gives you instructions or medicines to treat fatigue, be sure to follow them.

Get extra rest while you are receiving chemotherapy or radiation therapy. Let your symptoms be your guide. Fatigue is often worse at the end of treatment or just after treatment is completed.

Container Gardening

There are so many things to love about container gardening. Gardening in containers is great for literally all spaces and is suited for gardeners of all experience levels!

For the purpose of this article reference to “containers” or “container gardening” may refer to pots, hanging baskets, raised garden areas and any other type of planter or system that is not in-ground gardening.

Container gardening is great for smaller spaces and apartment living but container gardening is also handy for larger spaces too. Particularly if you’re running out of in-ground space or if you just want to keep your crops out of the ground, to avoid pests.

The container you choose also doubles as decor so don’t be afraid to get creative. Galvanized metal troughs, old wheelbarrows, recycled tires, whisky barrels, an old tea kettle, the sky is the limit.

Don’t forget the littles! Whether you have kids, grandkids, nieces or nephews, all kids love getting involved. Be it a fairy garden or planting their own strawberry pot, kids love getting in on the action and watching their plants grow. Pro Tip: Having them grow their own special container of veggies is an easy way to sell them on eating veggies at dinner time. You’re welcome.

Some of my favorite things to grow in containers are herbs and vegetables. Over the last 2 years I have experimented with a variety of different plants in various containers. Here is a summary of my experiences:

HANGING BASKET		RAISED GARDEN		REGULAR POTS
Tomatoes		Veggies		Tomatoes
Sungold	This variety probably isn’t the best suited for a hanging basket, but I wanted to experiment. It’s doing fine, but doesn’t look as nice as the cascading/tumbling varieties.	Celery, carrots	Year after year I have had massive success with growing tall robust stalks in my raised beds. Carrots in my raised beds never disappoint. I even replant the carrots after I thin them, so less waste and bigger crop! Both are good in pots too.	Bloody Butcher, oxheart, scotia, Manitoba, Purple Bumblebee Cherry	I’ve honestly had just as much success gardening tomatoes in larger pots as I have in-ground. I think I prefer them in pots as it frees up my in-ground space for other things. I find pruning the plant to be easier in pots.
Sweet Million, Tumbler, Rapunzel	Great in hanging baskets. Their tumbling habit makes for an attractive hanging display. These are my favorites so far.	Peppers	Peppers are nice for raised beds, but I think I prefer them in pots.	Veggies
If you have any plant related questions or a suggestion for a topic you would like featured in the Lorelei-Beaumaris newsletter, please e-mail pumpkincarvr@hotmail.com Happy gardening! Jerri Rumbolt Lorelei Beaumaris Community Member		Beets, radishes	Do very well in raised beds and pots.	Zucchini (Bush Variety)	This is my first year experimenting with the bush type. So far, my plants have been amazingly abundant in their pots!
		Muncher Cucumbers	These I’ve had about an 80% success rate. I’ve had better success in pots, but not going to complain about 80%.	Cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower	The stars of my greenhouse. These do very well in pots, they do need lots of space so don’t squeeze too close together. You will want to use row cover or some sort of protection to keep the cabbage butterflies at bay.
		Peas, beans	With a trellis, peas and beans in my raised beds are a no brainer. They’re also safe from the slugs!	Pumpkin	If you have a big enough container, you CAN grow pumpkins! Sugar pie pumpkins are my favorite but don’t discount larger varieties, if you have the space for them to sprawl.
		Herbs
		Basil	Basil does better by itself in its own container, from my experience. They don’t like to be too wet or too crowded.
		Parsley, Thyme	Always the star. I’ve grown it in a raised bed, railing planter amid my annual flowers and in pots with other herbs and veggies. Always bountiful.

Beaumaris Lake Open Space Renewal

The City of Edmonton - Open Space Infrastructure Delivery will be coordinating construction for the rehabilitation of the open space around Beaumaris Lake.

Edmonton

COVID-19 IMPACTS

While the COVID-19 pandemic has impacted nearly every aspect of daily life, it hasn't changed the fact that Edmonton is still the thriving city we love. We are continuing to build and better our city because robust and healthy infrastructure is critical to a safe and healthy Edmonton.

We are closely following the most recent guidelines and recommendations set by the Government of Alberta and Alberta Health. We are taking extra steps to ensure that the places where we continue to work and build are safe, sanitary, and provide adequate space for workers and the public to maintain an appropriate physical distance.

SCOPE OF WORK

Construction is currently underway..

The construction work will be phased and will consist of the replacement of trails and trail lighting as well as the rehabilitation of the west and east parks, including the promenade, and the viewpoints.

2020 Construction:

Construction will focus on the parks, promenade, viewpoints, and trails in the northwest section of the park.

2021 Construction:

Construction will focus on completion of the northeast trails, south trails, landscaping for all areas and the installation of park benches.

ACCESS

During construction, access in and around the lake will be maintained. In areas where there will be active construction work, temporary access routes will be identified and marked. If you have special access requirements, please contact beaumarislakerehabilitation@edmonton.ca to coordinate access.

Construction Impacts

The work may create noise and vibrations which will have a short-term impact on adjacent residents. All City of Edmonton contract workers are required to abide by the City's Community Standards Bylaw 14600 which restricts noise levels and hours of work.
